

T2+2™ PROFESSIONAL

T2+2™ stands for Technology Transfer Tools and Training. It is a unique package that combines online market research and training capabilities with custom consulting services to provide a comprehensive, highly responsive technology commercialization system. T2+2™ Professional saves time and money for its users by providing them with the information they need to make decisions on technologies, patents, target markets, partners, and licensees quickly and effectively.

T2+2™ Professional leverages the knowledge and experience of leading technology commercialization firm Foresight Science & Technology to bring customers unique offerings such as:

- ❖ A Data Warehouse with over 3,500 reports (and growing) on individual technologies in fields ranging from life sciences to computer science, energy to environment, and all points in-between. Many of the technologies in the Data Warehouse are available for license or acquisition, and introductions with the owners can be made to facilitate deals.
- ❖ Market Overviews on hundreds of industry segments within energy, life sciences, transportation, defense, chemicals, and more.
- ❖ Pipeline Partners, our extensive, internally developed and frequently updated network of companies interested in licensing or buying new technologies from Foresight customers.
- ❖ A fully searchable Royalty Rate Database that includes thousands of licensing agreements and other transactions.
- ❖ The Rapid Response Program, through which customers can receive custom Market Overview reports, as well as request additions to the Pipeline Partners network and other services, at no additional charge.
- ❖ Live Online Support for customer questions and requests.

“We’ve seen the most value in T2+2™’s ability to help us understand markets and identify subject matter experts and potential licensees.”
